

Pregonando: Voicing Community is a multi-disciplinary exhibit highlighting the collective efforts involved in partnership building and collaboration through art. Facilitated and created by more than 15 artists, community members, youth, and curious passersby, this exhibition charts the process of collaborations born and nurtured in Mexico, Panama, and Chicago through sight, sound, word, heart and soul.

Sat. Oct. 4: Opening Reception 6:30pm
“Outside the Indigenous Lens”, Sat. 7:30pm & Sun. 4pm

Video screening sponsored by the Chiapas Media Project October 4-5

Sat. Oct. 11: Intergenerational Workshop 2-4pm
 Music & adornment

Sat. Oct. 25: “Community Building through the Arts”, 7pm
 Closing panel discussion
Party with Nuestro Tambo at 8pm

is a community-based non-profit dedicated to creating and facilitating intercultural understanding and exchange through the arts, founded in 1998. Located at 6321 N Clark St Chicago, IL 60660 773.761.4165 www.cuentosfoundation.org hours: Saturdays 12- 2pm or by appointment

This project is partially sponsored by Columbia College Chicago, the Illinois Arts Council, a state agency and a CitiArts I Grant from the City of Chicago Department of Cultural Affairs. Event refreshments provided by Capriccious Fine Cuisine and New Leaf Grocery.

